

Fondation Ambros Lüthi

Call for Projects for the Prize of the Ambros Lüthi Foundation

Purpose of the Ambros Lüthi Foundation

Promoting research and teaching in the areas of business and economics from the ecological and/or ethical perspectives: that is the purpose set up by the Ambros Lüthi Foundation established in late 2012 in memory of that remarkable personality of the University of Fribourg, who suddenly passed away in 2008.

Prize of the Ambros Lüthi Foundation

The Foundation awards the Prize of 5'000 Swiss Francs every two years to a project chosen through its evaluation procedure.

Eligibility

The call for projects is open to any person affiliated with a university, a university of applied sciences or a research institute in Switzerland.

Topics

The project must be of particular relevance from the perspectives of economic and/ or sustainable ethics.

The projects submitted to the evaluation for the Prize have to be accomplished (at least substantially) within the last three years before the deadline of submission. The project must pertain to (at least) one of the following four areas:

- socio-economic or ecological studies
- studies of alternative economic models
- projects related to scientific, technological or organizational (governance) innovation and/or to their technology transfer.

For more information, please consult the statutes of the Foundation at:

www.ambrosluethifoundation.com

Documentation

The documentation of the submitted project must include the following pieces of information:

1. A description summarizing the project (not more than 1 page) consisting of:

- 1.1. the title of the project
- 1.2. the keywords characterizing the issues addressed in the project
- 1.3. the abstract of the project

2. Information about each member of the project (not more than 1 page):

- 2.1. the family name, the first name and the date of birth

Fondation Ambros Lüthi

- 2.2. the academic title and discipline
 - 2.3. the institution, the department and the function
 - 2.4. the postal address, the telephone number and the email address
3. The research project

Jury

The panel of experts that evaluates the submissions consists of three persons:

Georges Enderle	Professor of International Business Ethics at the University of Notre Dame, Indiana, USA.
Giovanni Sommaruga	Titular Professor of Logic at the University of Fribourg and Master of Conference at the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology in Zurich (ETHZ).
Marino Widmer	Professor of Computer Science at the University of Fribourg.

Calendar

The presentation of the Prize takes place on 9 October 2020 during the ceremony of conferring Master and Doctorate Degrees by the Faculty of Management, Economics and Social Sciences at the University of Fribourg. Accordingly, the timetable for the preparation of this event is the following:

November 2019	Launching the call for projects
30 April 2020	Deadline for submitting projects
From May to July 2020	Evaluation of the projects by the panel of experts and decision
August 2020	Determination of the winner by the Board of the Foundation
September 2020	Information to the candidates
9 October 2020	Presentation of the Prize of the Ambros Lüthi Foundation

Deadline

30 April 2020. Late submissions will not be taken into consideration.

Submission

By electronic mail, in pdf format: submission@ambrosluethifoundation.ch

Contact

Questions might be sent to: info@ambrosluethifoundation.ch