Annual Meeting of the Working Group on Economic Philosophy and Ethics

September 18–20, 2025 | University of St. Gallen, Switzerland

Organized by
Ingrid Becker, Michaela Haase, Florian Krause, Verena Rauen

The Working Group on Economic Philosophy and Ethics (AG Wirtschaftsphilosophie und Ethik, AG WPE) in the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Philosophie (DGPhil) invites submissions for its annual meeting. Our call is for open topics and a special theme.

Open Topics

For quite some time, philosophy and economics were deeply intertwined, forming one entity. Their differentiation into separate disciplines led to analytical distinctions, which until today leave certain phenomena, questions and contexts out of view. Economic Philosophy (Wirtschaftsphilosophie) can therefore be understood as a systematic way of re-viewing or “Wieder-oder-anders-in-den-Blick-Nehmen”, allowing for a variety and intersection of theoretical perspectives and their real-life(world) departures and entrances.

Against this background, we welcome contributions that deal with questions and problems that are central to economic philosophy, as well as those that enrich economic philosophy with insights from neighboring disciplines, such as organizational theory, (economic) sociology, or related fields.

Special Theme: The Past of the Futures – Inquiries Taking the Lens of Economic Philosophy

In addition to open topic submissions, this year’s meeting will have a special theme. With it, we aim to explore how the insights gained from economic philosophy and the debates on futures and uncertainty in several disciplines can mutually inspire and inform each other.

Contributors to the special theme are also invited to submit their papers to an online workshop to be held at the fourth Economists’ Philosophy Day on November 20, 2025, and to a special section in the annual volume of the Journal of Philosophical Economics (J Philos Econ), published in collaboration with our working group. Attendance at the Annual Meeting or the Economists’ Philosophy Day is not a prerequisite for submission to the J Philos Econ. Please see the respective Call for Papers for the Economists’ Philosophy Day and for the Special Section in J Philos Econ.
